Rules for participation in the Online Debate – “Biomaterials. The future is now”.

The conditions for participation in the Event are the following:

1. the Event Participant login to the Event Website (www. septodontknowhow.com) by the Participant's account.
2. To participate in the Event, it is obligatory to have access to the Internet, and to meet the minimum technical requirements for participation in the Event, i.e.: having a multimedia device (e.g., computer, laptop, smartphone) equipped with an audio communication device (speakers, headphones), access to e-mail, and a web browser in the latest version.
3. Organizer of the Event reserves the right to provide further specific conditions necessary for participation in the Event through the Event Website.

4. Participation in the Event is free of charge. Confirmation of the conclusion of a successful registration in the Event is equivalent to the conclusion of a contract for the provision of electronic services for the duration of the organization of the Event.
5. Organizer of the Event stipulates that the content provided in the Event is not a substitute for a direct visit to a doctor and is for informational and educational purposes only. Above-mentioned content does not constitute the provision of medical advice or any other service of a similar nature within the meaning of the Act on the Profession of Physician and Dentist of December 5, 1996 (Journal of Laws of 2021, Item 790, 1559 2232, of 2022, Item 583, 655). Also, the Event and the content presented therein do not constitute therapeutic activity or health services within the meaning of Article 3 (1) of the Act of April 15, 2011 on therapeutic activity (Journal of Laws of 2022, item 633, 655). The Event and the content presented therein may not constitute a basis for the Event Participant to abandon/start a particular treatment, therapy or medication. In any of these cases, the Event Participant is obliged to consult his/her doctor during the relevant visit.
6. The Organizer of the Event Septodont Polska sp. z o.o. informs that has incurred costs related to the organization of the Event, such as inviting speakers and renting the venue for the Event. In light of this, although participation in the Event does not require the Event Participant to pay any financial contribution, bearing in mind that the Event Participant will receive the benefit of being able to participate in the Event and benefit from the knowledge and materials provided during the Event in the form of digital content, it is reasonable and required by the Organizer of the Event to grant the Event Participant's consent to receive commercial information as a condition of participation in the Event. This is because the scope of the digital content made available by the Organizer of the Event during the Event justifies obtaining a benefit by the Organizer of the Event other than the payment of a price, and in this case, it will be the sharing personal data by the Event Participant through consent to receive commercial information. In the absence of consent to receive commercial information, the Event Participant will be able to choose to obtain an equivalent benefit from another entity on the market.
7. The Event is of a closed nature and is addressed to medical professionals in accordance with the provisions of generally applicable law including the Law on Curative Activity on Curative Activity (Journal of Laws 2011 No. 112, item 654, i.e. Journal of Laws 2022, item 633). This Event and its content shall not be communicated to the public (including the lay public), and for this reason the registration of content from the Event by its Participants is prohibited in accordance with the provisions of § 5 of this Statute.
8. Provision of false information as to the fact of the Participant's medical profession, or communication (registration) of the content of the Event by the Participant to third parties shall result in his immediate exclusion from the Event and shall result in liability for damages of the Event Participant who has committed the above violations.
9. During the Event, the Organizer of the Event allows the possibility of directing advertising content to Event Participants - medical professionals. The Organizer of the Event will make every effort to ensure that the advertising content presented at the Event complies with the provisions of generally applicable laws.

Ways and Conditions of registration

1. A person interested in participating in the Event is required to register by completing the registration form on the Event Website: www. septodontknowhow.com.
2. A person interested in participating in the Event is required to provide all required data on the registration form and its approval. In addition to completing and approving the registration form, the Person interested in participating in the Event agrees to accept these Regulations, the Event Organizer's Privacy Policy, and for processing by the Organizer of the Event Participant's data.
3. The Organizer of the Event shall not be liable for damages caused by incorrect or false data provided by the Event Participant.
4. The Event Participant agrees that the Organizer of the Event may process the personal data provided by the Participant to the extent that it is necessary for the organization of the Event.

Cancellation of participation in the Event

1. An Event Participant may cancel participation in the Event by sending an email to: debate@septodont.com. The Organizer of the Event will promptly send the Participant confirmation of the Participant's statement of cancellation from the Event. Receipt by the Organizer of the Event of a statement via the above-mentioned e-mail address is equivalent to termination of the contract for the provision of electronic services between the parties.
2. The Organizer of the Event reserves the right to cancel the Event or change its program for reasons beyond its control. Relevant information in this regard will appear on the Event Website. In addition, Participants of the Event will be informed by e-mail about the cancellation of the Event or changes to its program.

Liability and Responsibilities of the Event Participant

1. The Organizer of the Event shall not be liable for any damages resulting from actions due to the fault of the Participant of the Event during its duration.
2. The Organizer shall not be liable for any damages or inability to participate in the Event caused (i)by the Event Participant providing incorrect data in the registration form, (ii)by failure to receive messages from the Organizer of the Event, to the e-mail address provided by the Event Participant, due to the Participant's e-mail settings, (iii) by failure to maintain the minimum technical requirements necessary for participation in the Event, or malfunction of the Participant's Equipment, (iv) disruptions in the functioning of the Event Website due to circumstances that are beyond the control of the Organizer of the Event, (v) force majeure, which for the purposes of these Terms and Conditions are considered in particular such circumstances as: fire, flood, earthquakes, severe storms, hurricanes, lightning damage, lightning, explosions, riots, war, civil war, revolutions, sabotage, terrorist attack, state of emergency, natural disasters, legal restrictions related to an epidemic or pandemic (including the Covid-19 pandemic) preventing the realization and organization of the Event, and in addition, any other extraordinary events over which the Organizer of the Event had no real influence and could not avoid.

3. During the Event, the Participant of the Event undertakes to act in accordance with the laws in force in Poland, the rules of participation in the Event communicated by the Organizer, the provisions of these Regulations, as well as the accepted customs and rules of social coexistence.
4. The Event Participant agrees not to communicate any content that might offend individual Event Participants, the event hosts, the Organizer of the Event, or any other persons.
5. The Organizer of the Event shall prohibit the recording or making available by the Event Participant of sound or video, or a combination of video and sound of the Event, without the written consent of the Organizer of the Event. If such recording referred the first sentence is made, the Organizer of the Event shall be entitled to require the Event Participant to remove the recorded recording, prohibit its dissemination, and compensate the Event Participant for the full amount of damage resulting from such activity.
6. The Organizer of the Event informs that the content communicated during the Event will include content protected by copyright, trademarks, or other exclusive rights. The content communicated during the Event may include works whose copyrights are held by other entities.
7. Participants of the Event are obliged to use any content presented at the Event only within the scope of permitted use as provided for in the Law on Copyright and Related Rights. Copying, modifying, transmitting, publicly reproducing, and any commercial use of such content is prohibited, unless otherwise provided by law. By using the works, Event Participants do not acquire any rights to them, including but not limited to entering into a license agreement.
8. If an Event Participant violates the rules from participating in the Event, the Organizer of the Event shall be entitled to exclude the Event Participant with immediate effect and terminate the contract with immediate effect. The rights referred to in the preceding sentence shall be vested in the Organizer of the Event until the end of the Event.
